

Resource Links

Law schools, bar associations, governmental agencies, the Kauffman Foundation, and many other organizations offer a wealth of resources to assist those working at intersections of law with entrepreneurship and innovation. This section of the website provides links and references to a wide variety of sources of potential assistance to legal educators and others involved with such pursuits, including brief descriptions of specific programs, focus areas, and contact information.